

Meet GOSSLING

Gossling, aka Helen Croome, is a Melbourne singer who combines pop and electronica on her album, Harvest of Gold

ARE YOU GETTING EXCITED ABOUT YOUR UPCOMING TOUR?

I'm excited to see the response from the crowd. I get my biggest adrenaline rush when I can look out on a crowd and either someone is singing along or I can tell that they're understanding my lyric and feeling a connection to it. I haven't been able to do headline shows in Australia for this record and now I get to take my whole band out. We get to add Darwin to this trip – very exciting.

HOW DO YOU FEEL WHEN YOU LOOK BACK ON YOUR FIRST ALBUM?

I was specific with the decision that I made on the record to make sure it was exactly what I wanted as a debut album. My previous stuff was a lot more acoustic/folk-sounding. When it came to the record I wanted to introduce electronic and synthetic sounds and balance the two. I was listening to artists like Lykke Li and Goldfrapp. Twelve months later, I can sit back and be very proud of the debut.

WHO INSPIRES YOU?

My biggest songwriting idol is an Irish singer-songwriter called Damien Rice. He's probably one of the biggest reasons I decided I wanted to be a songwriter, because I heard his record O. I hadn't realised that music and songwriting could be like that.

Gossling's top three travel spots:

ADELAIDE The Adelaide Hills.

HOBART I feel a connection to the city; I have a lot of family in Tasmania.

QUEENSTOWN It's one of the most stunning areas I've ever seen, so I'd love to go back and really experience its Lord of the Rings scenic beauty.

ARE THERE ANY UPCOMING ARTISTS YOU'RE LISTENING TO NOW?

Meg Mac has an incredible voice. Also the New Zealand act Broods. I think they're about to explode worldwide. They're a brother-sister duo with amazing melodies.
